Besides the food, the music and soothing décor are great mood-makers. If you are one of those who eagerly looks forward to the weekend, the 'Weekend Lights' here are a great way to leave the workaday life miles behind.

Expanding horizons

Treepie Hospitality Pvt Ltd and Oriental Senses Spa have joined hands to set up an exclusive line of luxury spas across the country. The spas will be operated by the newly set up joint venture company Treepie Blue Mountains Pvt Ltd under a new brand called 'Bespoke Spa.' The first spa is expected to open at Te Aroha, Dhanachuli near the popular hill town of Mukteshwar in Uttrakhand. Offering customised services to the guest, Bespoke spa aims at delivering a tailor-made experience. Besides taking their pick from a wide choice of face and body treatments, the guest can also choose their own massage oils, music, and scents. All therapists have been handpicked and trained by Ahoi Haolai Sitlhou, CEO, Oriental Senses. Speaking on the occasion, Sumant Batra, chairman at Treepie said, "We work on the philosophy to uniquely design and cusomise the spa for the location. The region of Kumaon hasn't been explored fully. Te Aroha will be the first property in Kumaon hills to boast of a luxury spa and the second in Uttrakhand after Ananda."
